

Metric System and Local Adoptions in Europe

Edited by

Fátima Paixão

Konstantinos Nikolantonakis

Published by

Edições IPCB
Instituto Politécnico de Castelo Branco
Av. Pedro Álvares Cabral, n° 12
6000-084 Castelo Branco, Portugal
www.ipcb.pt

Title

Metric System and Local Adoptions in Europe

Edited by

Fátima Paixão
Instituto Politécnico de Castelo Branco, Portugal

Konstantinos Nikolantonakis
University of Western Macedonia, Florine, Greece.

Cover, design and layout

Rui Tomás Monteiro

Printed by

Instituto Politécnico de Castelo Branco

A limited print run of 500 copies

ISBN: 978-989-8196-20-0

DL: 340715/12

©

Contents

Introduction
Fátima Paixão and Konstantinos Nikolantonakis	1
The decimal metric system facing scientists and population in France
Suzanne Débarbat and Simone Dumont	7
Weights and Measures: the Greek efforts to integrate the Metric System
Konstantinos Nikolantonakis	25
Particularities in the adoption of the Metric System in Portugal - Some local constraints
Fátima Paixão and Fátima Regina Jorge	41
The First Applications of the Metric System in Napoleonic Italy
Maria Teresa Borgato	59
The units of length in the Spanish treatises of military engineering
Juan Navarro Loidi and Pilar Merino Saenz	77
Money: from virtual Reality to the Real Thing - Emerging national currencies and the transformation of traditional peasant economies in Northwest Germany
Karl-Heinz Ziessow	97